Cyclone in Minnesota.

Nearly Two Hundred Lives Lost at Lake City.

EXCURSION BOAT CAPSIZED.

The Steamer Sea Wing in the Path of the Hurricane Turned Bottom Up in Deep Water—Great Destruction and Loss of Life at Other Places.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 14.—What will probably prove to be the most disastrous cyclone that has ever struck this community passed over this city at 9 o'clock yesterday evening, indicating the loss of life perhaps one or two hundred people, and damaging property to an extent that at this writing cannot be estimated. Your correspondent was visiting friends in Lake City, and was sitting in the yard when what appeared to be an ordinary electric storm was noticed coming up from the west. In half an hour the whole heavens was converted into a complete canopy of lightning, which was watched with interest by the brave citizens of the little village and with fear by the timid women and children.

A little before dark a terrific wind struck the community, and your reporter sought the shelter of the house just in time to escape being caught under a huge tree that came crashing down against the house. Windows were closed instantly, and none too soon, for the cyclone was upon us, and trees and houses were fast being demolished in its path, while my wife in fear and trembling sought the seclusion and protection of the cellar in company with the ladies of the house. I assisted in closing shutters and making preparations for the worst that could be expected, while trees were heard to be crashing down and missiles were striking against the house. The building proved strong enough to weather the blast, and in half an hour the worst of the hurricane had passed.

As soon as the trees had been cleared away from the front of the house your correspondent started out, and soon learned that a horrible calamity had befallen the place that has not been equalled since the St. Cloud cyclone several years ago. People began to gather in the streets, and in a few minutes the news was scattered abroad that an excursion boat, with over 200 people on it, was capsized in the middle of Lake Pepin. The boat proved to be the steamer Sea Wing, which came down the lake from Diamond Bluff, a small place about seventeen miles north of here, on an excursion to the encampment of the First regiment, N. G. S. M., which is being held a mile below this city. The steamer started back on the homeward trip about 3 o'clock, and although there were signs of an approaching storm it was not considered in any way serious, and no danger was anticipated.

The boat was crowded to its fullest capacity, about 150 men, women and children from Red Wing and Diamond Bluff, being on board, and about fifty people on a barge which was attached to the side of the steamer. When about opposite Lake City the boat began to feel the effects of the storm, but the officers kept on the way, while the storm increased as the boat continued up the lake, and in fifteen minutes was at its height near Central point, about three miles above Lake City. The steamer was at the mercy of the waves, which were now washing over the boat and all was confusion. The boat momentarily ran on to a bar and the barge was cut loose, and the steamer again set adrift in the lake. A number of those on the barge jumped and swam ashore.

As the barge also floated again into the deep water those on the barge saw the steamer as it was carried helplessly out into the middle of the lake, and as they were being tossed about in the raging waters they were horrified a moment later to observe the steamer capsize and its cargo of 150 precipitated into the lake. Those on the barge remained there until they were drifted nearer the shore, and they were all rescued or swam ashore. Among them were two ladies who were brought to the beach by strong and ready swimmers. There were about fifty in all that were on the barge.

The events that transpired on the steamer after it separated from the barge are probably most clearly related by those who were rescued from it. As soon as the storm had begun to affect the progress of the boat, Capt. Wetherton gave instructions to run the boat into the Wisconsin shore but it was impossible to run against the terrible forces of wind and wave. In five minutes more the waves began to wash into the boat and fill its lower decks, and while the hail stones as large as hens' eggs came down on the heads of the poor and helpless creatures who were huddled together on the top.

A huge wave struck the craft in the side at the same moment that a terrific blast of wind more horribly forcible than the others came up and carried the boat over, all of the people on board, 150 or more, being thrown into the water, some being caught underneath and others thrown into the waves. The boat turned bottom upward and only about twenty-five people were observed to be floating on the surface. These caught hold of the boat and climbed upon the upturned bottom, and those first securing a position assisting the others.

In ten minutes more the twenty-five or so who had obtained momentary safety on the boat could observe no others of the boat, crew or passengers floating on the surface of the continuing high sea of waves. Afterwards, however, as a flash of lightning lighted up the surface of the lake the sight of an occasional white dress of a drowning woman or child was observable, but it was impossible for those who witnessed the horrible sight to lend any aid. Those remaining began calling for help from the shore as soon as the storm began to abate, and in half an hour lights were observed flitting about on the pier at Lake City, opposite which point the upturned steamer had now been driven.
Before help could reach them, however, the poor creatures who yet remained to tell the horror of the night, were again subjected to another battle with the elements with no word of warning, and as they were just beginning to hope that they would be taken off by the citizens of Lake City, the boat again turned over, this time on its side and again all of the remaining twenty-five souls were hurled into the water. Of these several were drowned before they could be brought to the boat by those who succeeded in remaining afloat and again securing a hold on the boat's side as the men hung on to the railing in danger each moment of being washed away by the waves.

One man observed the forms of two women wedged in between a stationary seat and the boat's side, both pale in death. As the lightning gleamed lit up their mangled faces, another man saw two little girls floating past him as he hung with desperate efforts to the steamer's side.

Half hour after the passage of the storm your reporter went with others to the dock where the steamer Ethel Howard was anchored safe from the storm.
It was presumed that the steamer would at once proceed to the rescue of the drowning, but when I asked the captain, Mr. Howard, if he was going out to the rescue, he replied that he was not going to run his boat away from the shore until the indications of another approaching storm had disappeared. He said also that he did not propose to run the risk of losing his boat in order to look for dead people on the lake.

Citizens of Lake City who heard Capt.
Howard's remarks were most severe in their denunciation of the position he assumed in the face of the statements made to them that every minute might mean the saving of a half dozen lives.
Many talked of taking the boat away from him by force, but there were not enough to put the plan into execution, and other means of rescue were resorted to.

In a few minutes a dozen or more row boats were manned and put out from the shore. The upturned boat was at last discovered, the twenty or more remaining people clinging to the boat were rescued and brought to the shore, most of them being able to swim.

Among those who are known to have been on board of the steamer, and who are undoubtedly drowned, are:

Two children of C. H. Rehder.
Peter Gerkin, his wife, five children and hired girl.
Fred. Sherf, wife and daughter.
Mrs. Capt. Wetheron and her two children.

F. Christ.
William Blaker and family of three.
Mrs. Hempling and daughter.
Gus Beckmark.
Miss Elmh.
Boze Adams.
Ira Enlton.

A full list of the 150 passengers which are pretty certain to have been drowned is not obtainable at this writing.

A large majority of them were women and children, those saved being nearly all strong men who were able to swim and cling to the boat after it had capsized.

On the return from the capsized boat with three or four people who had been rescued, one of the row boats encountered two floating bodies, each with a life preserver attached to them.

In Lake City the damage to property by the cyclone is great, although no fatalities have been reported.

Up to this time fifty-nine bodies have been found and laid out.

Another One Near St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 14.—A destructive storm, including a cyclone and ending in a fierce hurricane, swept the country just north of here at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, carrying death and destruction in its path. The storm originated at a point four miles directly north of here and moved northeasterly toward White Bear, covering a country accessible only to teams, and reports come in slowly. It is certain there are at least eleven persons killed and a large number seriously injured.

The storm center was at Kohlman's lake, at the large stock farm of James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern road, and to these points three ambulances have been sent, accompanied by a force of ten surgeons. Telegraphic communication with White Bear is cut off, and as thousands of excursionists went out during the day the stations are crowded with anxious friends.

The storm came on with fearful suddenness and was in plain view from this city.

The cottages of Messrs. Schurmeier and Good, on Lake Gervaise, were totally destroyed by the cyclone and five were killed and ten injured. Following are killed:

Mrs. J. H. Schurmeier.
Charles Schurmeier, of St. Paul.
Rev. Mr. Pfaffler, of Bremen, Tex.
George Miller, of the First National bank, of this city.
Schurmeier's driver, name unknown.
The injured are:
J. H. Schurmeier, scalp wounds.
Charlie Good, serious injury to scalp.
Mrs. Pfaffler, shoulder broken.
Thomas Barnard, not seriously.
Mrs. George Miller, slightly injured on head.

Miss Carrie Moss, slightly injured.
Clark Hansen, bruised hip.
R. Good, three scalp wounds and an injury to the spine.
Mr. Genter.
Miss Minnie Moss.

Reports from outlying towns show that the storm visited destruction upon many places. While the central storm point was at Lake City and Lake Kohlman, the wind was of the force of a hurricane over all of the territory north of St. Paul, and its track was marked by ruin for a distance of fourteen miles. Beginning at Lake Mac-camon and extending across to Lake Vadnois, the storm left nothing standing in the path. Farm houses were unroofed, all standing grain prostrated and trees uprooted.

Vague reports of loss of life are coming in continually. At New Canada it is reported that twenty lives were lost and scores injured. The damage to property is also extensive. White Bear lake was crowded with excursionists, but it escaped the cyclone, though there was a general scare, a hard blow and a severe hail storm.

Path of the Tornado.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—Minneapolis and St. Paul almost by miracle escaped the severe effect of a cyclone late yesterday afternoon. At 4 o'clock the funnel formed a few miles northwest of Minneapolis and first came to the ground, but only for a moment, near the Twin City stock yards. No serious damage is yet reported from there.

It then rebounded and came to earth again about five miles further east, and rebounding again struck the vicinity of Kohlman's lake, seven miles from St.
Paul, with an intensity that was terrific.
At this time the top of the funnel, as seen from a tall building in this city, seemed fully two miles in circumfer-ence.

At Kohlman's lake six people are dead, five missing and nine wounded.
At Little Canada, also near St. Paul, there are lives lost but how many is not known. The cyclone cut a swath 200 yards wide, leveling everything before it. The damage to property is great but not yet estimated. Large trees were broken like straws and carried hundreds of yards, and six houses were blown bodily into the lake. All the inmates of one house were killed. Hundreds of head of stock were killed. Some very valuable and rich stock farms lay in the path of the storm.

Later advices indicate that at least twenty people were killed at Kohlman's lake, and perhaps as many more at Little Canada.

The funnel was photographed from the top of a hotel in this city by F. A.
Hogle during the time it was wreaking destruction at Kohlman's lake and excellent negatives obtained.

VICTIMS GROWING IN NUMBER.

It is Now Believed Forty Persons Perished in the Chicago Explosion.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 14.—The latest police report relative to Friday night's explosion on board the steamship Tioga would indicate that over forty persons were blown into eternity. The head officers of the Union Steamship company are willing to concede that twenty-five were killed, but a careful review of the situation and a recount of the unknown dead and missing raises the number to more than forty.

The work of pumping out the waterlogged stern compartment of the Tioga was finally accomplished yesterday afternoon without accident, and six additional bodies, five of them colored and one white, were taken from the myriad of oil barrels and cotton bales, and sent to the morgue. No effort was made to get into the after end of the compartment, where, it is believed, a number of additional bodies are buried, but the entire work will soon be completed, and the exact result of the fearful explosion will be known. The number of bodies delivered at the morgue is twenty, and of those twelve have been positively identified.

Sailboat Upside.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 14.—A special to The Times Union from Gainesville, Fla., says that while a party of thirteen were out in a sailboat on Alachua lake yesterday the boat capsized, and Mrs. L. J. Burkeheim, her 3-year-old son and Miss Tillie Brown were drowned. The ten others, including Mr. Burkeheim and his little daughter Ida, clinging to the boat until rescued by people from shore.

Shot From Ambush.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 14.—A special from Dover, Del., says: Caleb Ford, a prominent young farmer near Hartley, was shot while working in his fields last Thursday by some person concealed in an adjacent swamp. He is thought to be dying. Suspicion falls upon a man named Bodewell, who has been living at Ford's house, and who, it is rumored, had betrayed a female relative of Ford.

Railroaders Discharged.

JOLIET, Ill., July 14.—Superintendent Clinton of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern "Outer Belt line," discharged 300 men Saturday on account of the strike in the quarries. All the other roads laid off from two to three crews.

Charged With Train Robbery.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 14.—Andrew Temple, a bar tender, has been arrested for alleged complicity in the Crawley train robbery last fall. He is suspected of having taken part of numerous other train robberies.

Hot Weather Out West.

OMAHA, Neb., July 14.—Yesterday was the hottest of the year. Signal office reports maximum temperature as 105.
No cases of prostration reported.

Idle Men Go to Work.

ASHLAND, Pa., July 14.—The Reading's Keystone colliery will start up this morning after several months' idleness.
The works employ 300 persons.

Program of Congress.

A Forecast of the Week's Proceedings

IN BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE.

The Senate Will Dispose of the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill and Probably Take Up the Tariff Bill—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—There is only one thing certain about the program of the senate for the coming week, and that is, that the sundry civil appropriation bill will be taken up, and if possible, disposed of. Before adjournment Saturday afternoon, the tariff bill was made the unfinished business of the senate, which makes it pretty certain that the measure will be taken for discussion when the sundry civil bill is out of the way. But there is no certainty that the Democratic members of the senate will permit the Sundry civil bill to be put through within the week.

It is generally recognized as a fact that the Democratic policy in the senate is to be one of delay until it is determined that the Federal election bill is to go over to the next session, or until that measure is passed. The caucus of Republican senators to be held early in the week will come to a determination on the subject of a program for senate action, and when that program is announced the Democrats will know how to govern their conduct hereafter. Until the Republicans come to a decision, however, the general belief is that the Democrats will keep the discussion of the sundry civil bill going. What the decision of the Republican caucus will be is a matter of much doubt.

There is no doubt that a majority of the Republican senators who met in caucus Thursday night favor a change in the rules of the senate under which debate can be limited, and subsequently the passage of the Federal election bill.
But the enemies of this proposition on the Republican side of the chamber claim that they can muster enough "bolters" to defeat caucus action with the assistance of the Democrats. Senate caucuses are never considered absolutely binding. They are rather advisory, although it is considered a bold member of the senate who will repudiate caucus action. The Republican caucus will likely be held Monday night. It will determine the program of the senate.

The house this week will probably follow the program determined on by the committee on rules for the week before—the disposal of the original package and bankruptcy bills. Mr. Payson's land grant forfeiture bill is well on its way to final disposition, and he will hardly object to the consideration of the other bills, as he did last week. While no definite program has been determined on, it is safe to say that the bankruptcy and original package measures will have the right of way, with the contested election cases of Langston vs. Venable, from the Fourth Virginia district, and of Witter against Elliott, from the Seventh district of South Carolina, as possibilities. The committee on the District of Columbia will have the floor on Monday for the further consideration of the Atkinson railroad bill.

Saturday's Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In the senate Saturday the shipping bills were debated till near the close of the session, and passed. The tariff bill was there-made unfinished business, and the senate adjourned.

In the house the silver bill occupied the day. The conference report was agreed to by a strict party vote—122 to 90. The bill now goes to the president.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS.

Philadelphia Visited By Over a Half Million Dollar Blaze.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Fire which originated about 4 a. m. Sunday in H.
T. Atkinson's turning and planing mill at Tenth street and Susquehanna avenue, destroyed that structure and most of Atkinson's lumber in the yard opposite, and then spread to and destroyed Carey Brothers five-story wall paper factory occupying an entire block, 300 by 120 feet. The fire spread so rapidly that no attempt could be made to save the factory, and all efforts were concentrated upon preventing the spread of the flames among the surrounding tenements. These were saved though many of them were scorched and some of the roofs were smashed by the falling walls of the factory, the occupants escaping by hurried flight. Carey Brothers estimate their loss at $300,000 on stock and machinery, and $200,000 on building; insurance $200,000. Mr. Atkinson places his loss at $80,000, insurance $27,000. Adjoining property was damaged to the extent of about $10,000, making the total loss about $600,000.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but Carey Brothers' watchman alleges that it started in Atkinson's stables, where several men had been carousing during the night. John Trimphy, foreman of Carey Brothers' designing department, was overcome by smoke while attempting to save some valuable designs, and had a narrow escape. John Hicks, one of the planing mill employees, was badly injured by a kick from a mule, while rescuing the animals from the stable.

Faust Dead on the Floor.

MARION, Ind., July 14.—Dominicus V.
Skillman, proprietor of the Skillman house, of this city, was found dead on the floor of his sleeping apartment, Saturday morning. Skillman had been a hard drinker of late. It is supposed that he died of a convulsion during the night and that in his struggle he rolled off the bed. His age was 55. He leaves an estate of $20,000, which will go to an adopted son, Joseph Skillman.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, JULY 14, 1890

Nearly five hundred new clerks will go to work in the Pension office July 21, and $636,000 has been voted by the House to help pay them. That staunch Republican journal, the New York Tribune, is too late in calling a halt on the raiders.

The Courier, published at Cynthiana, says many of the Republicans of Harrison County will vote for Captain Woodford Longmoor, Democratic nominee for Appellate Clerk. They can not vote for a better man, and one more deserving of the position.

Messrs. Boyd and Brown, Republican Ex-Sheriffs of Christian County, charged with being short in their accounts, have refunded $1,300 and $2,320 respectively, and their accounts are now being examined to discover how much more money the county and State were swindled out of.

The Philadelphia Record is facetious and sarcastic. It remarks: "An item has been inserted in the Agricultural Appropriation bill setting aside $2,000 for the purpose of an experiment in producing rainfall by explosions of dynamite, the material to be sent up into the air in paper balloons and exploded by time fuses. If this development of the Chinese-gong method of bringing down rain should prove successful, the Republican leaders in Congress would doubtless endeavor to put an ad valorem duty on every inch of rainfall thus obtained."

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund paroled one more prisoner from the "pen" Thursday. This makes ninety-two prisoners in all that have been paroled since October, 1888, the date the parole law went into operation. It speaks well for the wholesome effect of the law to know that but one prisoner has been returned while under parole, that one being Ephraim Bowling, colored, who, after being at large seven months, was brought back to the penitentiary the 2nd inst. to serve his sentence of two years for forgery, committed in Logan County.

Republican leaders are getting up an apportionment bill, and the Census Superintendent is aiding them all he can. The bill will be put through at the present session of Congress. It is a part and parcel of the despicable scheme of Reed, Quay & Co. to retain control of the Government. They realize that the situation is getting desperate, and they will not stop at anything. The South is to have fifteen less Congressmen under the new apportionment than she now has, and the Republican States of the Northwest are to have fifteen more Representatives than at present. Autocrat Reed, Embezzler Quay and the gang will fix things to suit themselves.

As advocate of the Federal election or Force bill, having asked the New York Sun this direct question:

"What section of the proposed law summons to the polls of New York the drums and muskets of the Federal Army?"

The Sun replied that the Federal bayonet is behind every section of the Lodge bill. Once grant the right of central authority to interfere in our local elections of Congressmen and Presidential electors, to establish in every State a Federal police, to make a house to house inspection of voters, to put a small army of Federal officers at the polls, and to turn over to a Federal Returning Board, appointed for life, the duty of canvassing the votes and certifying the result, and you already hear the beat of the drums in the distance and see the glint of the gun barrels.

The Latest Trick.

The bogus telegram swindle is the latest racket worked by slick rascals to replenish their purses. At Covington one day last week, the Commonwealth saw a well-dressed young man presented at the residence of Mr. Joseph Noterman, 1515 Scott street, what appeared to be a telegraphic message, but written on a sending instead of a receiving blank. The message purported to be from "Thomas W. Corbett," of Columbus, and notified Mr. Noterman to call at the "Bank of Commerce" for a check for $498. The charges were $4.98, which Miss Clara Noterman paid the seeming messenger, her father being away at his business house in Cincinnati. When he returned in the evening his daughter was astounded to learn that he had no knowledge of such a person as "Thomas W. Corbett," and expected no such check, and that she had been neatly swindled out of $4.98 by some clever scoundrel. If people on whom this swindle is attempted will notice whether the blank on which it is written is a blank intended for sending a message, and whether it is enclosed in the regular telegram envelope of the company, they may escape being victimized by the clever trick.

For the Farmer and Stockman.

Wheat is selling at 76 cents at Paris. William Gault bought fifteen hogs from William Manly, that averaged 300 pounds, at 4 cents.

During three recent weeks country feeders took 50,000 sheep to the Chicago market, or more than one-third of the arrivals.

Dr. Sparks worked a mile in the middle of the track at East Saginaw, Mich., last week in 2:20. He will undoubtedly be the best three-year-old of this year, as he was the best two-year-old of last year. Uncle Jack calls this jogging.—Paris Record.

Axtell, the $105,000 stallion, was given in to the Assessor at Terra Haute for taxation at $100. The Farmers' Alliance made a big kick and the assessment was raised to $5,000. And the farmers are not satisfied yet. They certainly have a right to kick in this case.

The breeders of trotters in Kentucky say that this season has been the most disastrous they have ever had. A disease resembling la grippe, with which the horses were affected last winter, has been the cause of hundreds of foals being slipped or lost after foaling, and it is now very difficult to get mares with foal.

The Fleming Times-Democrat says: "James B. Day, Charles M. Lee, Will S. Dudley and other horsemen were at Maysville one day this week to witness a trial of the phenomenal young trotter mentioned some time since. He went a mile in 2:29. Wm. Doak holding the ribbons, and his owners are willing to back him against any green trotter in this country. He is owned by the Hoekaday horse syndicate."

Here and There.

Mrs. J. T. Kackley has returned from a visit to her brother at Frankfort.

Miss Ola Wheeler is at home after a pleasant visit to friends in Cincinnati.

Miss Hannah Kane, of Plum street, is spending a few weeks with friends in the country.

Sunday Excursions Over the C. & O.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, in order that its patrons may have a cheap opportunity for recreation, will place in effect on July 20, 1890, a schedule of Sunday excursion trains running in both directions over its Cincinnati division. The eastbound train will leave Cincinnati from Fourth street depot, between Smith and John, at 8 a. m. and run to Maysville, leaving here on the return trip at 5 p. m.

The westbound train will leave Russell at 6 a. m. and run to Cincinnati on the regular week day schedule of train No. 17. Leaving Cincinnati from Fourth street depot at 6:40 p. m. on the return trip. Trains will stop at all stations in both directions. The round trip rates will be considerably less than one fare.

Prompt Settlement.

The several Maysville firms who sustained losses by the terrible wreck on the C. & O. at Bull Creek a few weeks since were handed checks this morning by Mr. F. E. Janowitz, the company's new agent at this point, for the amounts due them. This prompt settlement speaks well for the C. & O. The claims footed up nearly $1,200, Mr. M. C. Russell's being the largest—over $600. The total loss by the wreck is over $100,000.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Sunday Evening Services.

During the heated term Elder C. S. Lucas, pastor of the Christian Church, will deliver a series of short sermons at the Sunday evening services. The subjects, and dates on which they will be discussed, are as follows:

July 20—Christ's Doctrine of the Devil.

July 27—Christ's Doctrine of Hell.

August 3—Christ's Doctrine of Sin.

August 10—Christ's Doctrine of Temptation.

August 17—Christ's Doctrine of Conscience.

August 24—Christ's Doctrine of the Heart.

August 31—Christ's Doctrine of the Tongue.

Services begin at 8 p. m. promptly. Seats free. Strangers invited. All welcome. The first sermon of this series was preached last evening, on "Christ's Doctrine of Heaven." It was not only one of the most eloquent but one of the most learned discourses ever delivered in Maysville. At the close of the sermon two candidates for membership were baptized.

Seeing is Believing!

Dr. R. Goldstein, the well-known optician of Louisville who has been in our city the past week, has decided to remain one week longer to give those parties who are in need of a good pair of spectacles ample opportunity to get them. Old patrons who have used his glasses for years gone by, are still clinging to them and speak in the highest praise of them and of his work. Glasses inserted in old spectacle frames. Office at Miss Nancy Wilson's, corner Third and Sutton streets. 2m&w

A BLACKSMITH SAVES THE LIFE OF A LITTLE GIRL.—Minnie Carney was perhaps as near leaving this world as anyone can be to recover. She was sick with cholera morbus, completely exhausted and unconscious. The physicians in consultation decided the case was hopeless and beyond their control. Chas. J. Newcomb, a blacksmith, walked four miles through the darkness and storm, to get a remedy he had himself used, and which he firmly believed would cure her. That medicine was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. He obtained part of a bottle, with which he hastily returned, and gave the little sufferer a half teaspoonful, which relieved her and consciousness gradually returned. The medicine was given in broken doses, and in a short time she was well. He is positive that it saved her life, and has others in that vicinity. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

There is great complaint about the coming crop of tobacco. It needs rain badly, and a great deal of it has not done well from the time it was set. The old crops on hand will yet bring a good price, so it is thought.

Those lovely lawn chills, battiste and white goods at the store of J. A. Jackson are going off at cost. Also a line of gent's and misses straw shoes. Call and see them. He wants bacon and lard in exchange for goods. Will take a few dozen good chickens.

Parker Threlkeld, one of our highly respected colored citizens, and Mrs. Mary Bulger, well known, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock last Friday evening, at the colored Baptist Church, Elder R. Strans officiating. The church was very tastefully decorated. The attendants were Mrs. Armenia Washington and Samuel Calamase. The church was filled and many of our best citizens were present, the writer among the number. This was the second venture, both for the bride and groom. They looked as happy as a pig in a flower.

Railway News.

According to the annual report of the Commissioner of Labor, the number of employees on all the railroads of the country amounts to 700,000. There are 1,518 different railroad corporations, and the total mileage of these railroads is 156,400 miles.

A very striking illustration of the progress of the South is given in the railroad building activity during the first six months of 1890, as compared with the rest of the country. The new track in the South amounts to 1,114 miles, and the total track laid in the whole country during the six months was 1,898 miles.

A new method for ventilating railw-y carriages and preventing dust from entering with the air has lately appeared in France. The more quickly the train moves the more rapidly the apparatus works. The air is made to traverse a receptacle containing water, which cools it and relieves it of dust, after which it goes through another filtering before entering the carriage.

The Executive Committee of the Charleston, Kentucky and Western Railroad met at Blue Licks Friday and took steps for a preliminary survey, at the same time granting General Superintendent J. S. Spaulding the power to make a contract for the construction of the road. This road is an air line from Mt. Sterling, Ky., to Newport via Sharpsburg, Carlisle and Falmouth, a distance of ninety-two miles. They raised $25,000 to make the survey and establish a permanent line.

Says the Louisville Commercial: "An important railroad move is believed to be nearly completed. It is the change in the C. and O. route, which was published some time ago. The C. and O., which now owns its line through from Cincinnati to the seaboard, will quit sending its passenger business from here by way of Lexington, and will operate over the Shortline to Cincinnati. This line will give the C. and O. a longer haul, and the L. and N. will operate the line from Lexington to Huntington, connecting with the C. and O. at the latter place."

Mr. F. E. Janowitz, the new agent of the C. and O., has arranged to erect a bulletin board at the northwest corner of Second and Market streets, to keep the public informed as to the running of the westbound F. F. V. When the train is more than half an hour late the fact will be announced, and the time it is due will be posted on the board. The other trains are rarely behind time.

This is an accommodation on the part of Mr. Janowitz that the public will appreciate. Heretofore passengers for the westbound F. F. V. have frequently gone all the way to the depot in the West End only to find the train was several hours late.

THE Ripley fair will be held August 26th to 29th—following the blue ribbon hard times, he adds. Mr. J. B. Thomas, also a Maysville boy, a school mate of his, is living at Willow Springs, Mo., about twenty miles west of Winona.

THE workmen at the Gaylord Rolling Mill at Portsmouth, recently started after years of idleness, have been notified by the Amalgamated Union that they must

MR. A. B. KEFER, of Harrisburg, Pa., left for Blue Lick Springs Saturday after spending a few days in this city. Mr.
 Kefer is a teacher and had charge of a would cease their ranting about "race troubles."

 that they are common throughout the country. Under the law there is a fine

DRESSED IN STOLEN CLOTHES.

A Young Man Arrested for Drunkenness Discovered to Be Dressed in Stolen Clothes and the Charge of Burglary Placed Against Him—Other Ohio Dispatches.

AKRON, O., July 14.—Albert Kaiser was arrested here Saturday for drunkenness, and later on a charge of burglary was made against him. Morris Price's clothing store was entered last night and clothes stolen. Kaiser was also clad in a suit of the stolen garb, which was discovered after his arrest.

Kaiser is but 24 years old, and has spent a large fortune that came to him when he attained his majority from his father's estate. A year ago he burglarized his brother-in-law's hardware store, the former place of Kaiser's father, and went to the penitentiary for a short term.

Both Dead.

HILLSBORO, O., July 14.—Mrs. Gorman, an aged lady living in Brush Creek township, was found lying under her horse by the roadside. She was unconscious and divested of nearly all her clothing, and the horse was dead. Mrs. Gorman died while being taken home. She had started to ride on horseback to a neighbor's, and it is supposed that the horse dropped dead from the heat, and fell upon Mrs. Gorman, and that in her struggles to release herself her clothing was torn from her body.

Fell Under a Train.

CRESTLINE, O., July 14.—Addie Becker, a young lad about 11 years of age, was chasing a lightning bug across the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad Saturday evening, in front of a freight train going north, and, stumbling, fell on the rail and the engine and cars passed over his right leg, mutilating it so badly that Dr. Bennett amputated it above the knee. The boy will hardly live.

Possibly a Suicide.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 14.—Mrs. Abigail Hohenstien, delirious with typhoid fever, was missing from her room this morning and cannot be found. Tracks fitting her slippers are found entering the river, but none returning. No doubt is entertained of her fate, and efforts are being made to recover her body.

Found With His Skull Crushed.

LIMA, O., July 14.—William J. Klover, a prominent farmer, living five miles west, was found dead in his barn about 9 o'clock Saturday morning, with his skull crushed. It is supposed one of his horses kicked him on the head.

Killed While Coupling Cars.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 14.—John D. Somme, aged 35 and single, night watchman at the Scioto Valley freight yards, was killed Saturday morning at 4 o'clock. His head was crushed while coupling cars.

A Youth Instantly Killed.

FINLAY, O., July 14.—Charlie Schultz, 15 years old, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon. A large oak frame, up which he attempted to climb, fell over and crushed his head.

Farmers' Falls.

MT. GILEAD, O., July 14.—David Taylor, a wealthy farmer of Uniontown township, this county, has made an assignment to H. E. Ashley. Assets $85,000; liabilities $10,000.

MAD DOGS.

A Number of Persons Bitten by Them in Wabash County, Indiana.

WABASH, Ind., July 14.—People in the northern part of this county are greatly wrought up over the work of two mad dogs. For several days these dogs have been running at large, and many other animals have been bitten by them.

Friday evening two little girls at Roann were bitten, as was also a man east of North Manchester, earlier in the week. This man has gone to New York to be treated under the Pasteur system. Saturday one of the dogs was seen in North Manchester, and mounted men at once started in pursuit. The dog was followed five miles before he was killed, and in the meantime it added more men to his list of victims.

Train Robber Confesses.

DALLAS, Tex., July 14.—Andy Temple, a bartender at Fort Worth, was brought here Saturday by United States Marshal Knight on suspicion of being connected with the train robbery at Pryor's Creek, in the Indian territory, last November. He had an examining trial before Commissioner Ledrum, at which he stated under oath that he was one of the two parties concerned in the robbery. The other was a man named Mitchell, alias West, who is known to the authorities to be a Furlington, now under arrest at Boonville, Mo., for the murder of a sheriff. Temple says that he and his partner secured the revolvers each by robbing a store at Denison, and they proceeded to Pryor's Creek and held up the train.

Slashed With a Knife.

COLUMBUS, Ind., July 14.—At 8 o'clock Saturday night Jaybird McDonald, a tough of this city, entered the saloon kept by Frank Thomas and culled for a glass of beer. He laid upon the counter a silver dollar to pay for it. Thomas, by mistake in giving out the change, handed him a five dollar gold coin for a ten-cent piece. The mistake was discovered when the change left his hand. McDonald seized the money and attempted to leave the room. A scuffle ensued, when he drew a large knife and cut Thomas across the head and face, severing the lower part of his ear. Seven stitches were required to close the wound, from which Thomas almost bled to death, and may not recover. McDonald fled.

DEATH OF JOHN C. FREMONT.

Sudden and Unexpected Death of the Great General.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Gen. John Charles Fremont died at his residence, No. 40 West Twenty-fifth street, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His death was sudden and unexpected, and resulted from an attack of peritonitis. Dr. Martin attended the patient, but was unable to afford relief. The general was out on Friday in apparently good health. His son, who lives at Sing Sing, was notified of his father's illness, but was unable to reach New York before death occurred.

Mrs. Fremont is at present in Los Angeles, Cal., with her daughter Elizabeth. A son, Frank P. Fremont, is at Fort Snelling, Minn.

Gen. Fremont died at the residence of his adopted daughter Nina, wife of Col. Porter. His illness dates from last Tuesday when the thermometer reached 100 degrees. He took a trip to San Francisco and felt the effects of the heat and the exertion.

Gen. Fremont was born Jan. 31, 1813, at Savannah, Ga., his father being a French immigrant. He was graduated at Charleston college, taught mathematics, became an engineer in the government employ in the west, received a commission as lieutenant of engineers, explored the Rocky Mountain region, and gained great fame by his successful penetration to the Pacific coast, almost incredible hardships. He took a prominent part in the conquest of California, was elected as one of the 22 United States senators from that state (1849-1851), was the first Republican candidate for president in 1856, served in the Union army as a major general (1861-1862), was nominated for the presidency by the Cleveland convention of 1864, but declined the nomination, and has not since taken an active part in politics, though he was appointed governor of Arizona in 1878. Of late years he has been engaged in promoting southern railroad enterprises. His wife, formerly Jessie Benton, daughter of the famous Thomas Benton, of Missouri, survives him.

The Strike in Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., July 14.—The freight handlers' strike took on a new phase Saturday. The men of the Lake Shore and Wabash roads, the only ones yet out, joined the Federation of Labor. This, it is believed, will lead to a strike of the brakemen and switchmen of the two roads, who belong to the federation. The roads have secured ninety men to take the places of the 400 strikers.

Bitten By a Coyote.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The latest patient to arrive at Dr. Gibber's Pasteur institute is an Arizona cowboy, who was bitten by a coyote or skunk while sleeping on the ground. His three companions, who were also bitten, have since died. Dr. Gibber inoculated the cowboy, though somewhat doubtful whether his case comes properly under the treatment.

Labor Trouble Settled.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 14.—The difference between the Big Four company and its yard employees here have been settled by the company meeting the demands of its employees. Under the new scale the men receive fifteen cents more a day for work and twenty-five cents more for night work. The switchmen receive the same raise on their old wages.

Ice Trust in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—The ice trust of this city has given notice that after Monday next dealers will be charged $7.50 for 1,000 pounds of ice. As western ice can be delivered here for about $5 per ton, the probabilities are that these exorbitant rates will be short lived.
